

8/29/22

God's talking: "What is the prophecy I've given you to speak?"

Ans: To warn all I know of the dangers to come.

To show them the way to proceed. Especially my brothers and sisters.

To repent, honor our commitments, embrace our calling and the power to achieve what God wants Christ in us to fulfill.

God: How are you doing that?

Ans: By the consultation.

God: How does that work?

Ans: Equipping them to discern your will.

God: How are you doing that?

Ans: Explaining who we are and who can hear and see what you are saying and doing.

God: And what am I saying?

Ans: God, tell me.

God: Repent and believe. To whom much has been given, much is demanded.

Return to the call I've made on you:

"Christ in you!"

Love one another means "put your very life in common for the sake of testimony to unbelievers. [Be] my living examples.

The world does not know nor believe my Word. They [think] they have proof that it isn't true. When in fact, it isn't being invoked!

God: It isn't tried because you love the world and all it has to offer you:

- 1) Security (be strong, if you don't protect yourselves who will?)
- 2) Comfort
- 3) Ease
- 4) Pride/Glory (vanity), Gratification
- 5) Pride/You can be gods!—adorable, charming, witty, wealthy (Not Christ in You!)
- 6) Self-government, safety from God's judgements.
- 7) Freedom from fear of isolation

E.g. "If you would be my disciples . . ." give up even families.

- 8) The excuses to avoid the judgements of God.

For example, the scholars tell us what we know from scripture and the lives of the saints is that you can't really know God's will or mind or heart. On the contrary, Jer. 31:33-34.

God: "How can we be saved?" you ask.

Return to the sources—namely to your God, with your whole heart, mind, soul and strength. Dialogue with Me. I am not hidden; I'm denied, I'm ignored, I'm even criticized by you. I'm doubted because I am delayed by you. Mature! It's time for you to put childish things behind you. "Feed my lambs." x 3, x 77 x always.

Trust in me. I will not give you a snake if you ask me for a rope to pull you out of this filthy disbelieving world, which rejected and killed my beloved son whom I sent to save you.

The world had a chance in my Jesus and everyone except a very few chosen ones said He was from the devil! Where is your shame?

Be clear. I've spoken with all authority. I spoke the universe into existence.

I spoke my word and Adam challenged me. He said he could be god, too. They were the human race, Adam & Eve. The human race disobeyed me, the only one who created all things! And they plunged the universe, so defiled, into a race to replace me, with one whom they could control.

Then the human race rejected my "Word made flesh" whom I sent to save you and the world; and those sons of Adam once again rejected me. Trying to take over the authority of the owner of the vineyard! (Mt. 21:33ff). You human race have failed a second time.

So I blessed my Son and fulfilled his last plan—we sent the Holy Spirit on all flesh and have given each person the chance to be one with us, holy One in love and its unity. (No longer a race of people who govern themselves as a nation with an earthly king.)

I have put my spirit in each person and now, free from the curse of Adam, you can and must choose me in your own being. I am in your heart. I am in your will. I am in your body. I use your tongues to preach my word.

You now bear the responsibility to obey me, I, who never abandon you or stop loving you. I am not holding mankind's sins against you. You have all you need to make ME your king!

So! I am prophesying again with this my Divine Revelation in and to and for you. Worship me for I am. Accept the one whom I've sent and you will have life and this is "eternal life"—told to you by Jesus Himself. That you should "know" your Father in heaven as the sole creator and worthy of all praise and glory and my Son whom I have sent to save you. He has done all he was to do—sacrificing and sanctifying his last drop of blood to now live forever in his resurrected body.

You are His Body filled with and animated by our Spirit as Mary said, "let it be done unto me as you will."

So open your eyes to see me displayed, as I told you to find me in the least of humanity, these little ones, and the poor, rejected offscouring of the earth. Find me alive in yourself. Seek me there and you will find me. Obey me and prepare for the final judgement to come when we will separate the sheep from the wolves on the last day. Those who accept this Divine Revelation and obey it will live forever with us united as one—Father, Son and Holy Spirit and You.

On that day! We will recognize you as good and faithful servants—if you have loved your neighbors as we have loved you.

Feed my lambs, pronounce my Word as at the first Pentecost. Be the bearers of the revelation I've given you. And a light to the nations will illumine the path of salvation to all the nations. All you have to do is love as we have loved you. [The End]
